

The Worlds Greatest Trade - Ever!

A short story by Gordon J. White

The council was gathered in the royal court, and as they speculated on the purpose for this official meeting there was an expectation that something great was about to take place, something never done before. He entered the court with royal prestige and confidence none other in all of time could possibly portray. His presence filled the room with warmth and light far greater than the sun itself. Once seated in His royal throne, He firmly tapped his staff on the solid oak floor in a series of three, the sound echoed through the court traveling down each and every corridor of His Majesties Palace. Silence filled the court as excited conversation abruptly halted. "The greatest purchase known in all time is at hand" exclaimed His Majesty. "One will soon be chosen to carry out this righteous transaction, and one only. Who here is worthy of such a calling and skillful in such tasks?" His voice roared like the sound of rushing water. However, His listeners did not understand such a request. They had no idea of the investment He was referring to. "Who here knows of this trade I wish to make? Let him with wisdom and understanding step forward. I have waited many ages for this day as I've watched it approaching. Who will carry out this plan of mine, a plan of mine since the beginning of time? I know of only one." Just then, throughout all the kingdom, the royal trumpets could be heard as He entered the court room where all were gathered. The One who would do the trade walked in. With the same vision of confidence as His Majesty Himself, this One entered the court. Endowed with splendor and power, His light also filled the room and warmth was felt by all. A presence pleasing to the soul. "My Son" exclaimed His Majesty, "Are you willing to give up all you posses, to carry out this request of mine? No other it would appear is worthy or able." "Yes Father." He replied. "I Am willing to do this great trade of yours, though the cost is great. I will purchase the lives of many with my very own blood. Your will, above all, is forever My will. Be it done as you say! I will go." Those in the court all shouted as they instantly gained understanding as provided by Him seated on the throne. "Amen! Amen! Amen! Blessed be the Lamb of God Who was and is and is to come. He takes away the sins of the world and gives up all He possesses to do His fathers will. Blessed be the name of The Lord forever and ever Amen!" His majesty, God The Father, then explained to all that were gathered what was to take place. The very plan He'd set in place even before the creation of all the heavens and the earth was now to be explained. He revealed His strategy from beginning to end. All gathered in the court then listened as the Fathers plans were revealed in full concerning the salvation to be made available to all mankind. His words reverberated throughout the Kingdom: "Since the fall of Adam, sin has covered the earth. Satan has become a ruthless promoter of evil and accusing many since his banishment from the kingdom of heaven. That deceiver, knowing I cannot even so much as look at sin, has done all within his power to turn man against Me and destroy My greatest creation. Those with sin, as you all know, may not enter through the gates of this kingdom of Mine. Though this displeases me greatly and causes me to mourn at this necessity, it must be so. If it were not so, then this could not be named the Righteous and most Holy Kingdom of God." As He paused, one of His listeners humbly requested permission to ask His majesty a question: "If it be thy will, can your humble servant ask a question?" He nodded His head, and as He waved His hand gave the go ahead, this question was asked. "My righteous Lord, you alone have created all things. The power of all kings and rulers through out the ages is in Your hands. You hold the balance of all matters. You know all and see all. When You say rain, water falls from the sky. Whatever you say, it is done. This Satan is evil, as you have well said already. He is nothing more than a wolf in sheep's clothing, a roaring lion deceiving and devouring whom he will with his deceit and lies. Surely, with ease, you could destroy him once and for all. Then sin would no longer abound. All would be free. Just speak Your word against this evil intruder, then it will be done and sorrow will be gone from mans life. Joy, gladness and peace will only remain. Speak your word against this evil, is this not wise?" Silence filled the air as all present awaited the Great Kings answer. Then with compassion and great wisdom in His voice He firmly replied:"Yes, I could destroy Satan with a single passing of my staff, and a blast of the smoke of my breath but this would not prove my power, nor my love. This is not My character. Love will conquer over all, and this love will cover a multitude of sin. My love is not such that I should force man to obey by removing temptation to serve another, but rather allow them the free will to do so if they choose; this is love and sound wisdom. If a man chooses to follow Satan, then so be it, as much as it grieves my heart and burdens my soul. If he should choose Me over evil, then this type of loyalty I admire and will surely reward his commitment to Me. No, as hard as it may seem to you, man must be allowed to choose righteousness over sin, and of his own free will. I will not force this upon him, NO! Whatever his choice, that shall be his reward. As a man sows, so let him reap!" He then went on to explain His plan, beginning with the introduction of His laws for man and how these laws were to point out and reveal mans evil in his heart. The torah will lead the way to salvation, my Son. Then torah will be engraved upon the heart of them that accept my trade, the Lamb of God sacrificed for the sin of the world. From a heart of love will they obey. Not from obligation nor of fright, but out of love, for those that love me keep my commandments, and if they love my Son whom will now go, they will obey." "Since the fire and smoking introduction of torah, as provided upon Mt. Sinai through my good servant Moses, seated there to your left, man has not had a chance. Some have said this was cruel, making laws no man could possibly fulfill. This law, was for a purpose, a way of proving that sin abounds in the hearts of all men, and to point lives back to me for guidance and salvation. This torah of mine does show and prove there is none righteous, no not one. Ah my Son, he though is one! The laws of Moses prove but one thing. Man needs My salvation. Many hold these laws close to their bosoms and have written them on the tablet of their hearts, but still, sin abounds. It's mans nature to sin, as it has been since the fall of Adam. Yes, I knew they would fail, as I know all and see all, even the hidden things in a mans heart, yes even his secret sins hidden from all others. His secret things I know all about, and this grieves me bitterly. Had not all of these things been so, I would not have been afforded the opportunity to prove My unfailing love for my prized creation." As He spoke, tears filled the eyes of all. They could sense the compassion of His sincerity to be united once again with His creation mankind, not by means of force, but by willing hearts as He awaited patiently for each man ever to choose Him over evil. Love, He explained, would be the victor. He then went on to explain this great investment. The greatest trade - Ever! "A trade needs to take place." His voice echoed as lightning burst forth from His throne. "My Son, the righteous one, go now, live and abide by all my laws and journey through earth to live as man does. Tempted as all men are, you shall overcome and learn obedience like no other has or ever will again. Flesh and blood shall be your calling, and you will live a perfect life. Carry out My perfect will, my Son, go in peace and do my will. Man has an evil heart ##### with pride, greed, and lust. All these, My Son, you must overcome. Satan himself will tempt you harshly."

"Though My Son will prove Our love continually all the days of His life on earth, and will show many signs that He is who He says He is. Man, till the last day, will yet refuse to believe that He is the Mashiach, save a small number of souls. The majority will condemn unjustly My beloved Son, and will crucify Him, not only in the flesh but in their hearts until that day I have spoke of so much through my prophets. This must be, in order to conquer sin with love. My Son will trade His life for the sins of the world, purchasing their lives, and redeeming their souls with His Holy blood. My sacrifice, My Lamb, whom I will make King, will then conquer sin and death by rising from the dead and forever live. My power will make sure of that! He alone will pay the penalty of sin, which is death, but He will endure this sentence for all men, whoever will receive such a gift of royal grace. Yet many will still deny Him as their Lord."As He paused a moment, He perceived that one had a question. He pointed at this one and ordered he make known to all his concern."Lord, with such a gift of forgiveness and sacrifice on Your part, do you mean to say that man will no longer need to obey your ten commandments. Can they freely sin without penalty?"

"Certainly NOT, My Holy ten commandments will always be enforced and in full, but when failure of obedience exists, the blood shed by My Son will cover those failures for all who ask this to be done, though they must mean it in their heart sincerely and repent. They must return to me and from their sin. Since I know all that is in a mans heart, I will know whether his request for forgiveness is true or not. Man will have the choice to receive the Spirit of Messiah into their very being and will upon doing so receive a new nature, a circumcised heart and will be spiritually born again, adopted children of the Most High. Forgiven for the past, and redeemed from their future, Our love and sacrifice will cover a multitude of sin. They shall be my chosen vessels, a royal priesthood, an holy nation. I will graft them into Jacob and once again plant them in the land assuredly with my whole heart and with my whole soul. This shall be done for all who accept this gift of grace. Man cannot lead sinless lives themselves, so We will do it for them. Then, entry into My kingdom will be granted as washed souls we will freely pardon. They will then receive eternal life in the presence of their Creator. I have spoken it. Now let it be done! Jew and gentile, they shall be one!"The Greatest Trade - Ever! Yeshua Mashiach/Jesus the Messiah, The Son of God, gave His life for you. Why? So that you might be saved from your sin and the penalty it deserves. Sin is sin. A lie is just as guilty a sin to God as is murder. All have sinned and fallen short of the glory God. There are none righteous, no not one. Romans 10:13 "The word is near you; it is in your mouth and in your heart," that is the word of faith we are proclaiming: That if you confess with your mouth, "Yeshua/Jesus is Lord," and believe in your heart that God raised him from the dead, you will be saved. For it is with the heart that you believe and are justified, and it is with your mouth that you confess and are saved. As the scripture says, "Anyone who trusts in him will never be put to shame." What is this word?John 1:1 In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God. He was with God in the beginning.Yeshua Mashiach was the fulness of God in bodily form thus the name "Emanuel" meaning "God with us." John 1:14 The Word became flesh and made his dwelling among us. We have seen his glory, the glory of the One and Only, who came from the Father, full of grace and truth.This Messiah, Yeshua/Jesus, is the savior of your soul. He IS the Word of God, as he only speaks truth. He says: John 3:3 "I tell you the truth, no one can enter the kingdom of God unless he is born again." How can a man be born again you ask? Yeshua says to YOU: John 3:5 "I tell YOU the truth, no one can enter the kingdom of God unless he is born of water AND of the Spirit. Flesh gives birth to flesh, but the Spirit gives birth to spirit." Each man is born in the flesh, we all understand this, but each is also born with a spirit. This spirit of man is alive to the natural desires of the flesh but is dead concerning the things of God. When you ask Christ Jesus into your heart and confess Him as Lord, His Holy Spirit gives birth to your spirit and THEN you really come ALIVE! Taste and see that the Lord is good! Pray this prayer and see the warmth of God's great love enter your life as it did for me and every other soul that has requested this of God throughout history: "Adonai Yeshua Mashiach. I admit my imperfection, my sin. I fully admit my faults and sin to you now. Thank you for trading all you had in heaven so that you could be my sacrifice, my sacrificial lamb. I ask you Lord to please forgive me and to come into my life, to be my Lord and circumcise my heart. Create in me a clean heart and renew a right spirit within me. I surrender all to you Lord. My life is yours, and all I own. I ask now for your will to be done in my life as I now accept Your love and gift of grace for me. I believe in my heart that God raised you from the dead. Yeshua, I believe that you are alive. Give birth to my spirit now that I too may live. Help me now to live a life worthy of your calling upon me, and teach me your ways through your word. Open my eyes of understanding that I may understand all you have done for me. In Yeshua's name, Amen.
